English B34 - Introduction to Library Research

If your research skills need improvement, this is the class for you.
Concurrent enrollment in English 1a is not required.

- 1 unit transferable (articulates with UC and CSU)
- Meets 2 hours a week (or 1 hour twice a week for the M/W and T/Th classes)
- Improve the quality of your research papers
- Learn the basics of research for academic courses
- Learn the difference between a journal, an index and a magazine
- Learn when to use the Internet ... and when to avoid it
- Amaze your friends with your encyclopedic knowledge of how to find good stuff

Comments from recent students when asked,
" Would you recommend this class to a friend?":

"I already have. It is very informative and well thought out."

"I know how things work and I don't have to worry about being lost."

"Before this class I felt like I didn't know what I was doing. Now I feel comfortable using the library."

"A friend recommended this class to me and I would definitely recommend this class to a friend. It is very helpful for library research!"

"Yes, because there are so many valuable resources that I had no clue about."
