Stimulation Theory Paper

Your paper should be between 250 and 350 words. Word count should be noted at the end of your paper.

You will have a number of options for this paper. Choose one of the following.

1. Give me an example from your life (or the life of someone you know) that demonstrates how the theory explains human motivation, or simply why you, or someone you know, does something. You may choose an example for part of the theory rather than the entire theory.

2. Critique an aspect of the theory. If you think it is flawed in some way or if you think there is a better way to look at these ideas, make suggestions to improve the theory. You will need ideas or examples to back up your claim.

3. If you can think of other stimulation categories, or resources categories in addition to the ones I have listed, you can write about one or more of these areas. Give examples.

4. You may make suggestions for bettering the model.
